International Pain Policy Fellows featured in On Wisconsin

The Pain & Policy Studies Group (PPSG) announces an article about its global program and the International Pain Policy Fellowship (IPPF) in the newly released issue of its alumni magazine, On Wisconsin.

Along with a glimpse into the international drug control system and a review of common barriers to adequate pain relief, the article focuses on the IPPF and two Fellows, Dr. Marta Leon from Colombia and Dr. Eva Duarte from Guatemala.

On Wisconsin is one of the largest circulation alumni magazines in the United States, with each issue mailed to 310,000 homes in 116 countries.

The PPSG thanks the Open Society Institute's International Palliative Care Initiative and Lance Armstrong Foundation for funding the IPPF.
